

We Really Mean This

To each of you who reflects on and acts to end violence in our communities: we honor your efforts. To Warden Joyner, Mr. Atkins, and Mr. Doering, we appreciate and value your leadership in welcoming this type of programming at Central Prison. To the custody staff who so generously support these work sessions, our warm thanks. To Sgt. Pyatt, who supervised so many rehearsals with consistent good grace, a big thank you. To Mr. Norris, who offered encouragement since the beginning, our sincere gratitude. Thanks to Mr. Williams for his support and encouragement for this remounting. To Ms. Grillo, Ms. Jordan, and Ms. Idris, we are thoroughly indebted for the time, attention, and encouragement you've provided; we surely couldn't have done this without you. And finally to Dr. Kuhns, thank you for your vision and perseverance. It's a true honor to be associated with you.

Warmly,
Lynden Harris and Kathy Williams

The Project

Welcome to Serving Life! For the past two years, men from Unit 3 have joined Hidden Voices to explore the themes of our lives: love and loss, violence and compassion; justice and healing. Together we have written, conversed, debated. We have laughed, celebrated, and wept. We have changed, even as we changed each other. To the courageous men who participate in these groups, we salute your vulnerability and your dedication. Thank you for being willing to support one another in this process.

Hidden Voices

Thanks always to our incredibly talented workshop artists and leaders: Rachel Campbell, Nancy Demorest, Jessie Gladdek, Jennifer Thompson, Lamar Whidbee, and Kathy Williams. You are each an inspiration and a joy to work with. Thanks also to Allie Yee for her caring and consistent help with typing.

A Prayer for Our Times

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace,
Where there is hatred, let me sow love;
where there is injury, pardon;
where there is doubt, faith;
where there is despair, hope;
where there is darkness, light;
where there is sadness, joy.
